CLEANING ADVICE FOR END-USERS

The Clean team have travelled the breadth of the United Kingdom providing free audits on behalf of distributors. Here are a few examples of workplaces that are benefiting from better ways to keep spaces clean and spotless.

Top of the mops for Saltgreen Residential Care Home

Saltgreen in the Scottish Borders invited the team to carry out a review of its current floorcare system to find out where efficiencies could be made in reducing waste water, chemical use and to increase productivity.

Following a site visit the team was able to advise the care home on the Rokleen microfibre cleaning system designed to save time, money and improve staff morale as a result. It's a trolley-based system designed for quick and effective cleaning of spillages and dirt in heavily trafficked areas, while reducing cross contamination and maximising cleaning standards.

Susan Chisholm, manager at Saltgreen Residential Care Home, comments: "I've seen a 25% reduction in staff time spent doing the same tasks with microfibre, compared to using the old system. Not only has this improved staff morale greatly, but the home is visibly cleaner, and we are using fewer chemicals, which reduces costs further."

Getting a handle on things: helping YHA transform its cleaning regime

YHA (England and Wales) enlisted the help of Robert Scott when it was looking to update the specifications of its floorcare mop and handle system to better suit the needs of the staff.

Lisa Venter, operations standards & quality manager at YHA, explained "With different handles for mops and brooms across sites, it was causing confusion for the teams when equipment was not piecing together correctly. A system that was going to help us reduce volume of wastewater, chemical cleaning agents and time spent cleaning for the team, were also important. We also wanted to find a UK-based manufacturer to reduce our carbon footprint wherever possible."

As a result of a Housekeeping Forum, we suggested the white Hygiene handle as the most appropriate product, with a 'handle amnesty' used for staff to surrender, recycle and replace the old equipment. The new handles can be used with most products from mops and brushes, to squeegees and sweepers. These head attachments come complete with sockets that comply with BICSc's universal colour code system to prevent cross contamination, and following Robert Scott's recommendations, YHA has now implemented the new cleaning system across all of its sites in England and Wales with extremely positive results.

Lisa continued: "The support of their team to help us move over to the new spec of equipment has been hugely appreciated."

A cleaning trolley designed for MRI rooms

One healthcare facility we've worked with recently came to us with a real challenge in that they needed a trolley that could be used specifically to clean rooms with MRI scanning units – therefore it had to be completely metal-free.

Working with the customer, we identified the most suitable metal-free and non-conductive trolley system – the Alpha Trolley – and began working through the list of product requirements that we could tailor to their needs. This included metal-free plastic holders for microfibre mops and cloths, pre-soaked jugs, composite handles and other cleaning tools.

Now we have created this unique system it could be used by any healthcare facility that faces the same challenges and requires a cleaning trolley that does not conduct with any of the equipment on site. Due to the potential for this product across other facilities, it is now something we are looking at stocking as a range in its own right.

Caddy Clean Scrubbing Machine

Caddy Clean is a versatile, lightweight scrubbing machine which can be used on almost any surface, making it a popular choice with professionals. Battery operated and compact, it is perfect for cleaning hard to reach areas where bulky mains-operated machines can't fit.

Its 1.7 litre solution tank (sold separately) and trigger delivers fluid straight to the scrubbing heads, which includes soft microfibre or abrasive pads and bristle heads for tough scrubbing, cleaning and polishing. The telescopic handle reduces bending and stretching, and the handheld attachment can be used on its own for scrubbing on bathroom or kitchen surfaces.

Pads and brushes are easily attached and the heavy-duty battery, which fits onto a belt, gives up to two hours cleaning time. Caddy Clean is suitable for use just about anywhere, with no need to carry multiple tools for different areas. Abrasive pads come in six colours.

What's in the kit?

The kit includes the scrubbing machine, handheld attachment, 12v battery, charger and belt clip, two pad holders, a pair of abrasive and a pair of soft pads, and a pair of standard and light brushes (solution tank sold separately).

The handheld attachment can be used on its own. The handheld kit includes the scrubbing machine, handheld attachment, 12v lithium battery, charger and belt clip, two pad holders, a pair of abrasive and soft pads, and pair of standard and light brushes.

Yellow: fine 1500

The yellow pad is intended for both daily polishing and cleaning, producing a clear, reflective shine. For floor maintenance and daily for medium gloss.

The biggest and most abused floors are no barrier for KGS Flexis. There is no need to alter your program, just fit the appropriate pad onto your scrubber dryer or rotary floor machine.

How to use for daily cleaning

KGS Flexis pads make floor cleaning and polishing easy; just follow a few simple guidelines.

- Designed to be used with rotary floor machines and scrubber dryers, and speeds of between 200 and 800rpm and weights between 20 and 80kgs. For best results, please use a drive board.
- The pads can be used on terrazzo marble, granite, concrete, ceramic tiles, vinyl, plastic, linoleum, epoxy and acrylic floors – just match the pad to the floor.
- Remove dirt and dust first by using the first required grit.
- Test in an out of the way area before beginning the full job and in an area that can be easily controlled.
- Flexis pads do not require heavy duty chemicals to work.
- Beware of sharp protrusions in the floor (i.e. metal strip or sharp lippage).
- Make sure you fit the pad colour side down.
- Use flat Velcro style drive boards to maximize floor contact. This delivers a more even floor finish.
- For daily cleaning we recommend the green pad, one pass and wet.
- Wash pads daily for best performance and to extend life of the pads.
- Flexis pads do not require chemicals, just use water.

Deep cleaning sequence

For maximum deep cleaning we recommend the four step process of Flexis red, blue, yellow and green in sequence, each with five passes and using water.

Top tip

For best results, use a flat Velcro style drive board. A brush type drive board which does not offer flat coverage can result in uneven pad wear.

How to fit a Hygiene handle to an Exel® socket mop

The Exel push-fit socket features internal ridges, which are designed to take the thread of the Hygiene handle. This means the Hygiene handle fits both screw and push fittings.

To fit, push the Hygiene handle into the Exel socket and, while applying firm pressure, screw the handle clockwise until tight. The handle will screw its own thread into the socket.

To remove, place the mop head on the floor, preventing it from moving by placing a foot on the yarn, and simply unscrew in an anticlockwise direction.

TOUCAN ECO RANGE

Robert Scott's Toucan Eco bio-cleaning system is a revolutionary way to produce a multipurpose disinfectant cleaner on-site, which replaces 80% of chemical cleaners and puts an end to the single use plastic bottles they are supplied in.

The system requires only two ingredients – table salt and tap water – which are electrochemically activated by applying a small electrical current using a specialised electrolysis cell. This produces hypochlorous acid, a powerful disinfectant, along with a very low concentration of sodium hypochlorite which, when combined with a pH of around 7.8 to 8.5, acts as a mild cleaning agent.

The solution is up to 99.999% effective against bacteria. And, as the cleaning disinfectant is non-toxic and non-hazardous, it's a safe and effective way to clean, offering a truly viable option for sustainable cleaning, and a less harmful product for end users.

Toucan Eco is available in a range of unit sizes to suit small, medium or large facilities and can be tailored to the specific requirements of any site.

TOUCAN ECO HELPS THE RESTAURANT GROUP FOCUS ON SUSTAINABILITY

The Restaurant Group (TRG) is one of the UK's biggest hospitality groups with a portfolio of over 400 restaurants and pubs including well-known brands in the casual dining market such as wagamama, Frankie & Benny's, Chiquito and Brunning & Price.

TRG is committed to operating responsibly. This includes sustainable and ethical sourcing of food ingredients, and reducing its energy consumption and carbon emissions, water usage and waste. TRG has been a part of the Sustainable Restaurant Association's (SRA) Food Made Good programme since 2015. It also boasts 3-stars (the highest available) in the Food Made Good Sustainability Rating, recognised globally as the industry standard for measuring sustainability in hospitality and foodservice.

In the summer of 2020, Duncan Goodwin, Head of Risk and Compliance at The Restaurant Group, was looking for a cleaning solution that sanitises surfaces quickly and effectively, without damaging furniture finishes.

"Hygiene and surface care was very much the driver for our search for a new cleaning system," explained Goodwin. "Having investigated it thoroughly and after carrying out assessments into its suitability, as well as putting Toucan Eco through our own trials, it became apparent that it has unique environmental benefits too."

In spring 2021, TRG began the roll out of Toucan Eco across 210 sites, comprising 80 pubs and 130 leisure facilities

"As a result of using Toucan Eco, the Group saved 2.7 tonnes of plastic packaging, and 35,000 tonnes of chemical distribution"

Plastic savings are made as chemical cleaners are commonly supplied in single-use plastic bottles, with concentrate containers made from virgin plastic. Many of these can't be recycled as they contain toxic ingredients. With approximately only 30% of all plastic being recycled in the UK, according to the British Plastics Initiative, the majority will still end up in landfill.

Feedback from the roll out has been positive all round and the restaurant customers like it too. It's simple to make onsite using the device and takes a matter of minutes for the electrolysis process to convert the salt water to a powerful but safe disinfectant cleaner.

"The environmental benefits of using the system are hugely significant for our business."

It's now being used to hygienically clean all hard surfaces across the 210 sites, using a spray and wipe method on worktops, tables and chairs – anything that staff and customers are coming in contact with – and replaces 11 chemicals the Group previously bought in. Toucan Eco doesn't replace heavy degreasers or descalers, although it is effective if used as part of a daily clean.

The feasibility for Toucan Eco included a business case comparing the capital expenditure of the models versus potential savings to work out its payback period. Goodwin explained: "For us, it has a return on investment of within six months, after which we're saving all of our chemical spend. It's effectively free to make from that point onwards."

Steve Courtney, product specialist for Toucan Eco at the UK's distributor Robert Scott, added: "It's fantastic to be working with a restaurant group that's recognised the potential of Toucan Eco to truly transform cleaning practices and one that's had the vision to roll out the sustainable cleaning system across so many sites, delivering such significant environmental benefits and cost savings. We hope this encourages more businesses, particularly within the hospitality industry, to switch to cleaning sustainably with Toucan Eco."

WINDOW CLEANING

Cleano Range

Save time and safely clean smooth indoor surfaces and windows without the need for buckets and ladders.

Cleano is an innovative telescopic tool, which has been designed to enable easier, faster and safer cleaning of larger and hard to reach window and flat surfaces.
